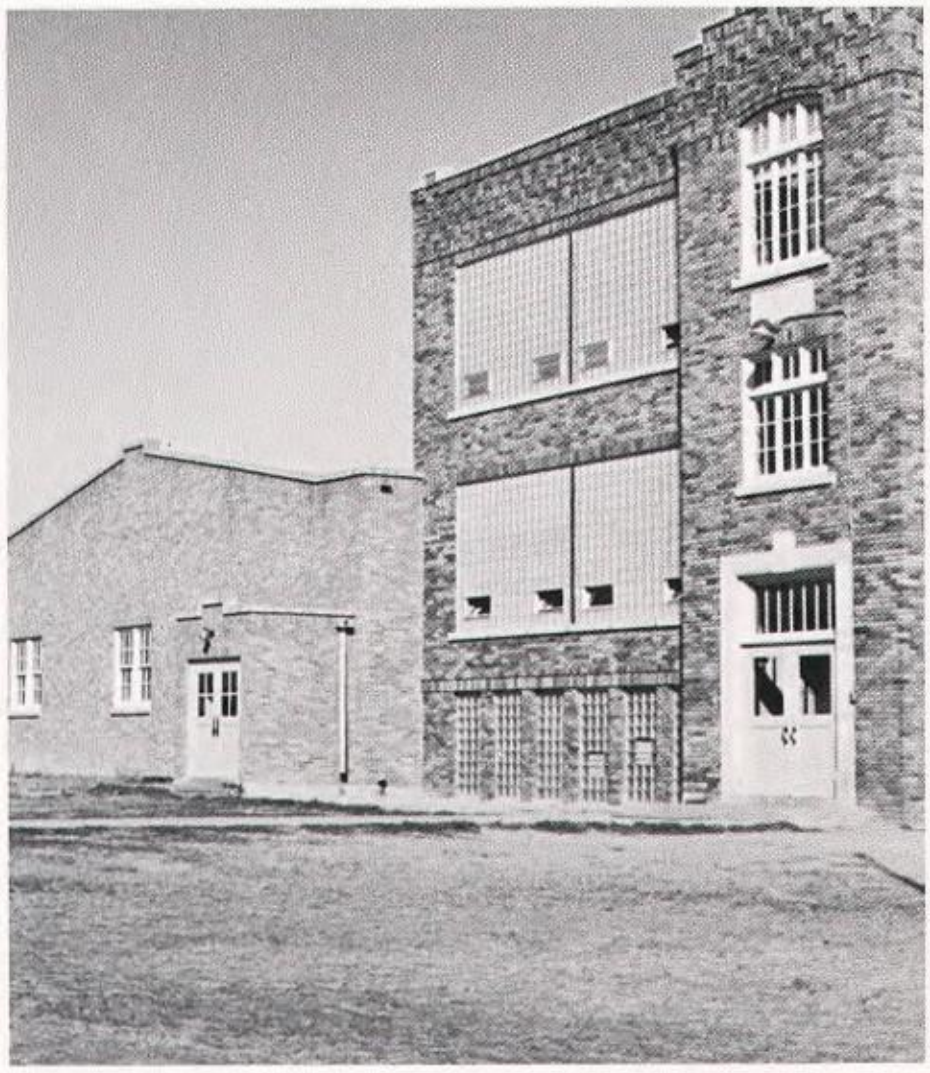
This is the place . . .

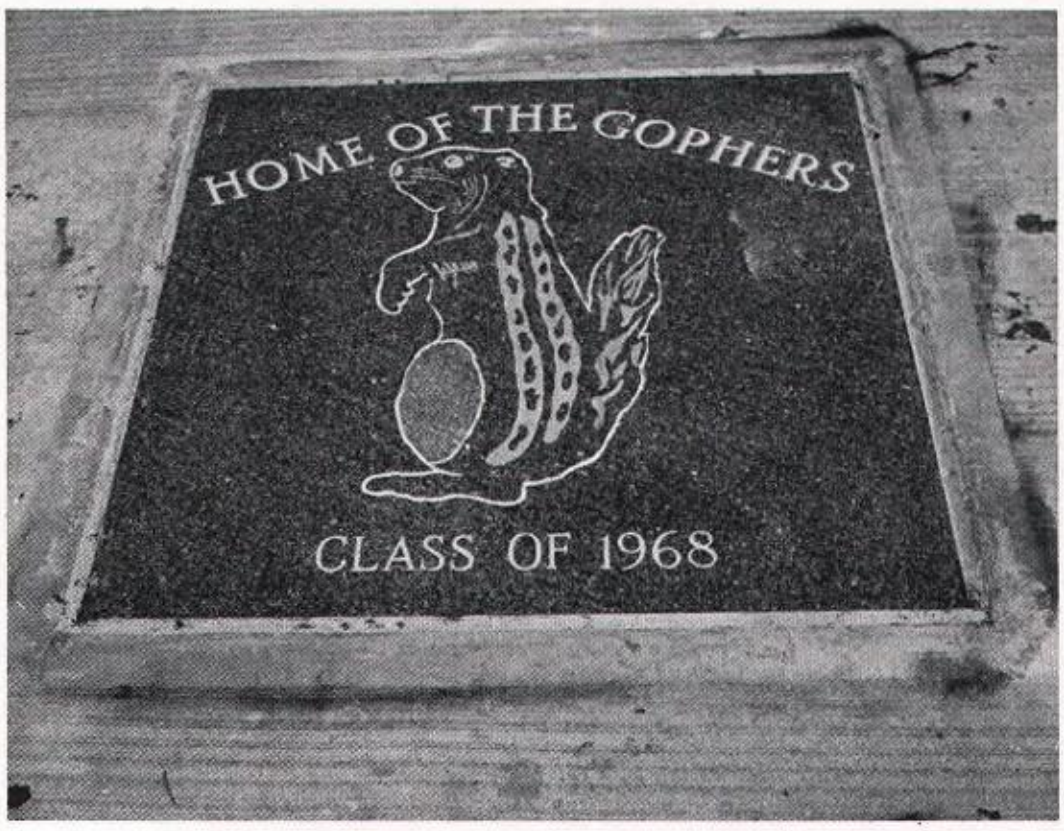
. . . the place in which we nave worked together for the common goal--knowledge. As we recall and reflect upon our school days, we can see that although our environment may change with progress, it is the students, teachers, and parents themselves, who truly create the atmosphere for achievement.

It seems as though it were only a few short years ago when we used to look forward to a bedtime story and a chance to lick the cake bowl. But the years flew by and new things filled our desires. . . clothes, the use of the family car, dates, and money. Yes, and you, Mom and Dad, were the ones who always shared these little things with us. You laughed when we laughed; cried when we cried. You knew and understood that all these things were just a part of our growing stage.

And so, Mom and Dad, we offer the 1968 annual in dedication to you, to express our appreciation for the memories of your trust, confidence, wisdom, understanding, friendship, and love you have given us through these years.

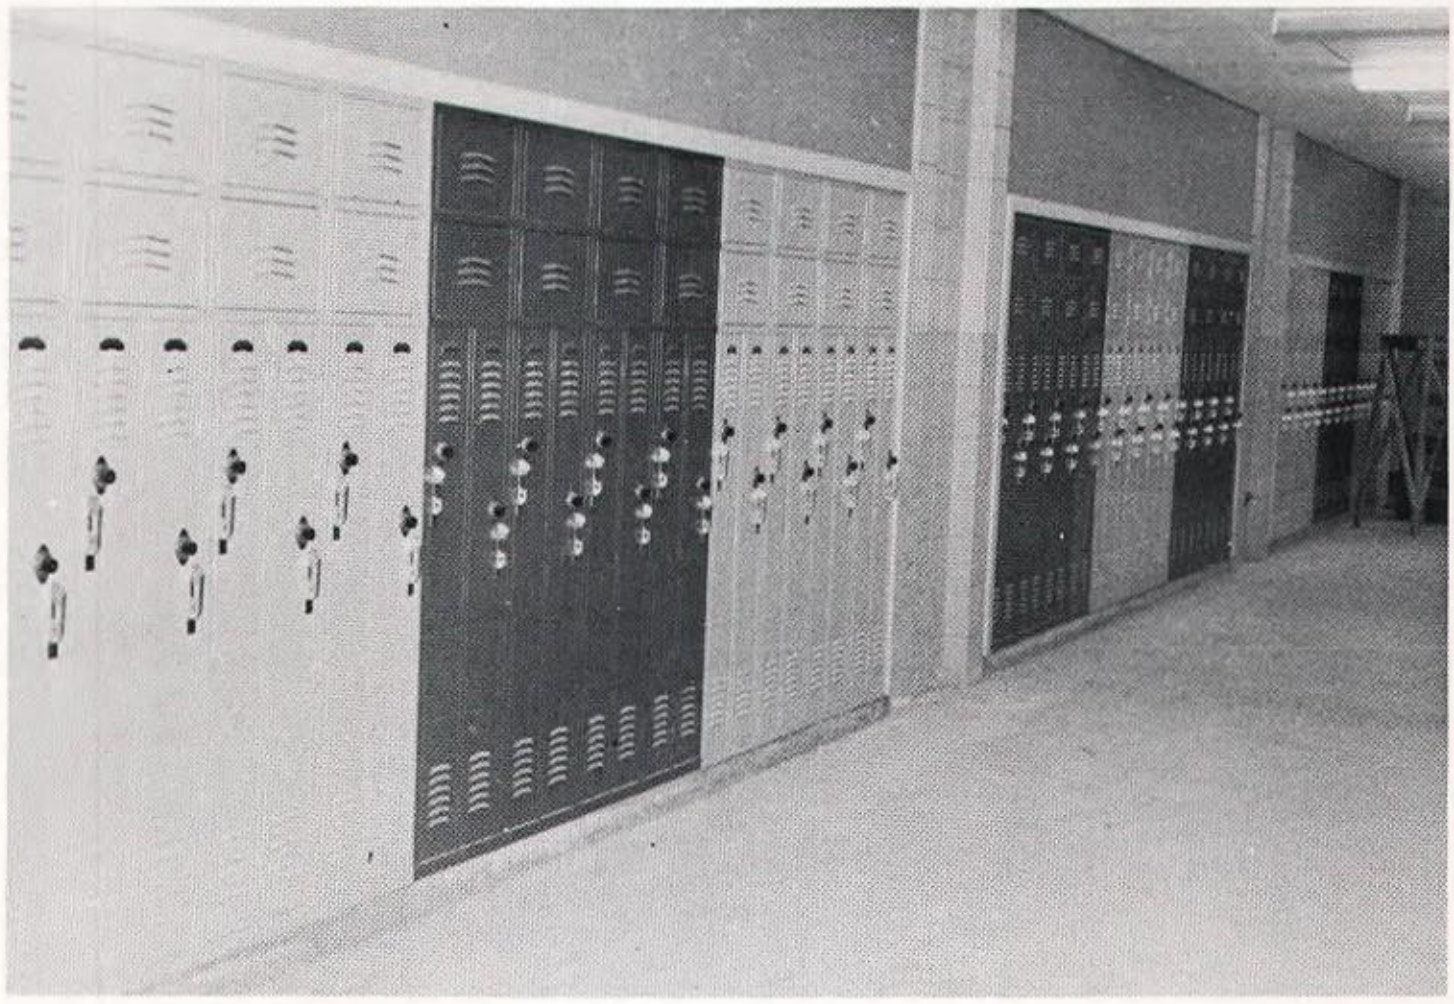


The old school standing empty will leave with us memories that we will long cherish.



The memoriam plaque donated by the Class of 1968 will enhance the sidewalk leading to the school for many years to come.

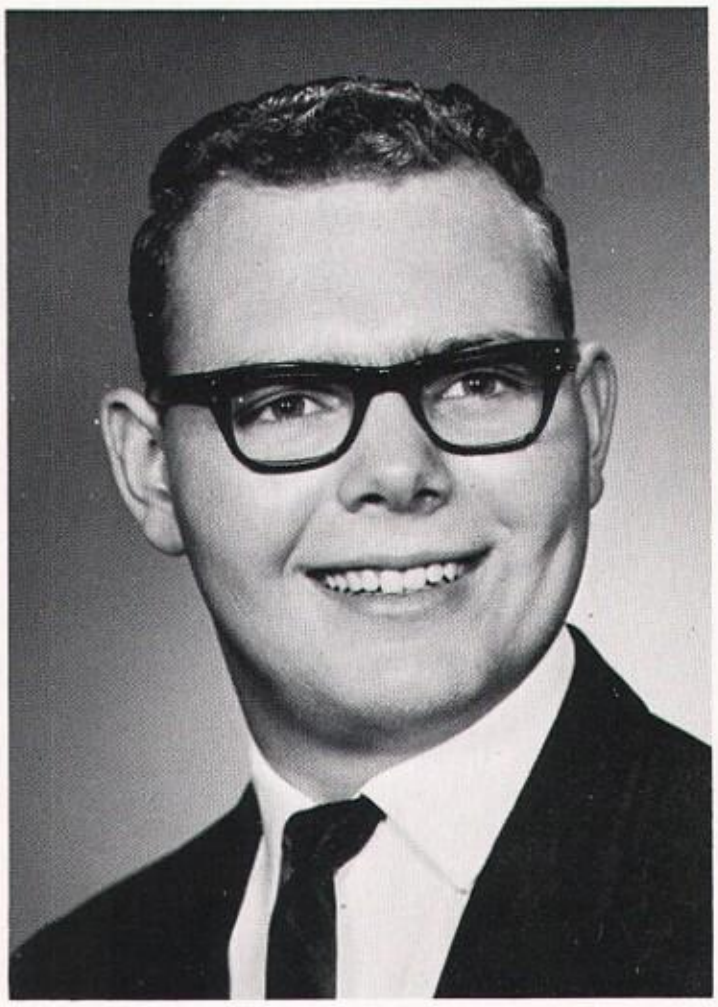
The new school, shown in i
School.



The empty lockers in the new school seem to symbolize the new and challenging atmosphere that will await the students in the new building.

onstruction process, seems to open a new and modern era for those attending Grenora High

In Memoriam



We, the entire body of Grenora High School, dedicate this annual in fond memory of John Nelson (1949-1967), son of Mr. and Mrs. Olaf Nelson of Grenora.

John was an upperclassman whom we all loved and admired. We will cherish his memory now and forever.

May God bless his memory.

ADMINISTRATION

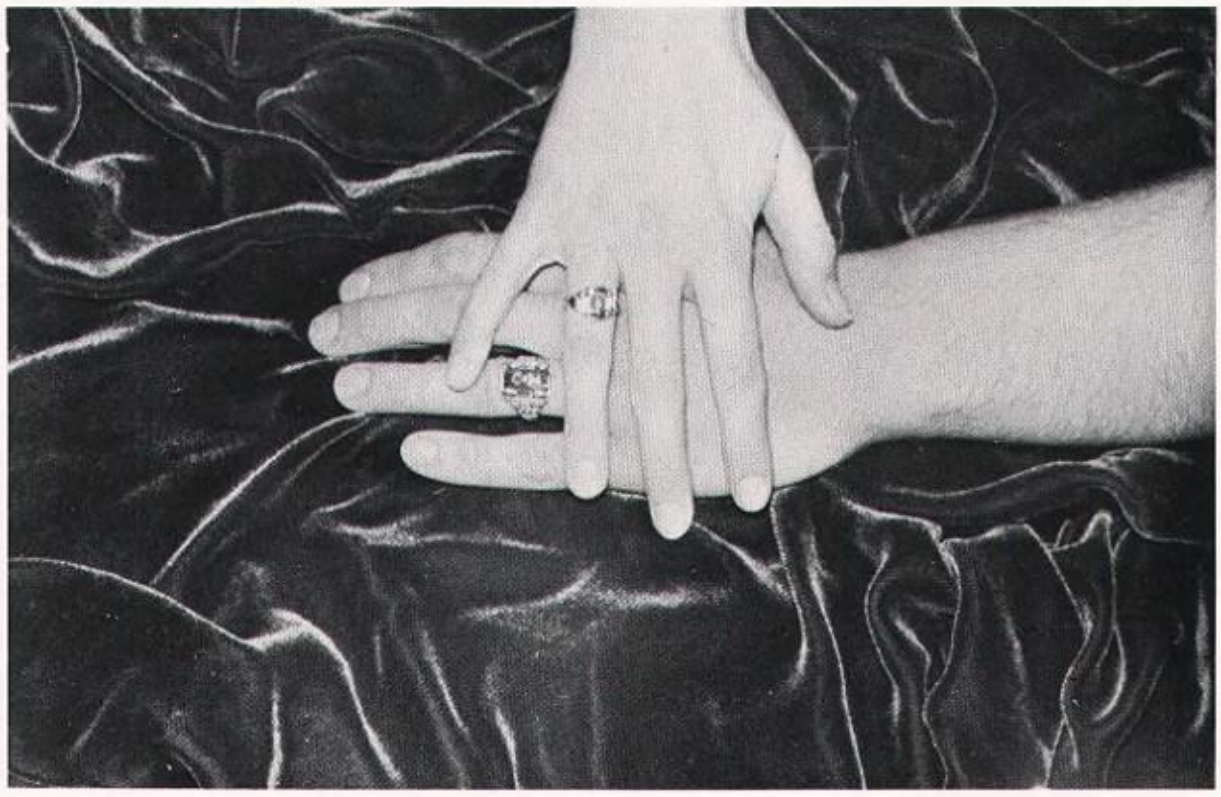
The Seniors Set Standards for Student Achievement

The senior class rings symbolize the goals they have set before themselves throughout high school and have achieved through graduation.



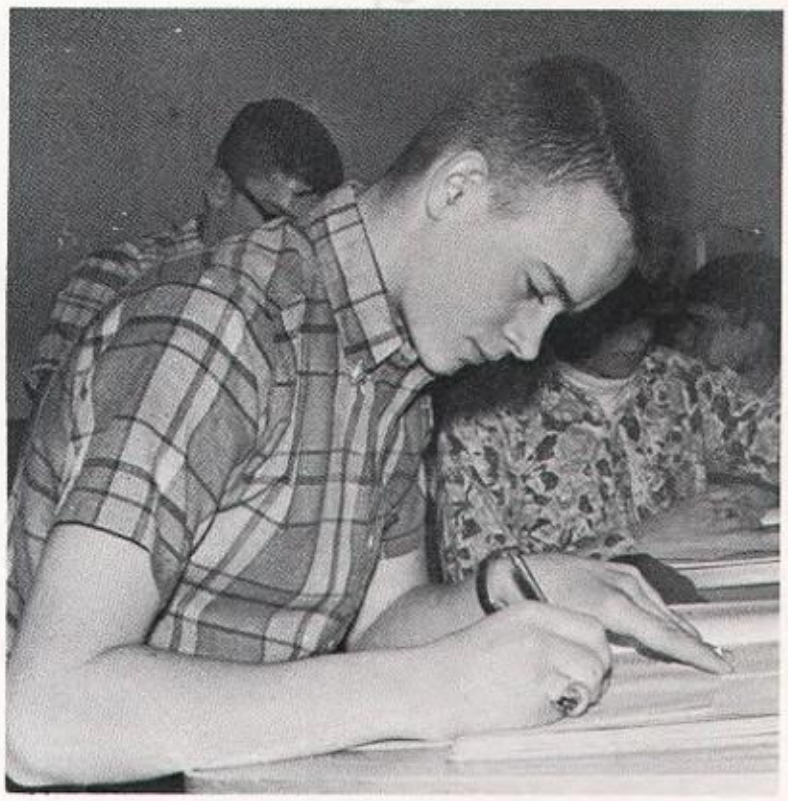
All of the seniors would agree that this year has been the busiest and most important year of all. It was filled with visits from college representatives and a realization that they would soon be leaving high school forever and entering an adult world.

The year's many activities included serving at the Junior Class Play and the entire class's participation in a humorous three act play entitled ALL SHOOK UP. The class also took a day off and went to Regina, where they toured many places of interest.

All the senior's activities as well as the frustrating class meetings will always be fondly remembered.

Class Night and Baccalaureate approached, and the seniors realized that these would be a few of the last times they would all be together.

Graduation completed the senior's year of high school but started them on an entirely different life in which to begin.



The seniors may have a few privileges during the year, but getting out of assignments is not one of them.

No matter how disappointing it may be to fail a test, you've got to keep your chin up!

Senior Class Officers are, left to right; President - R. Gunlikson, Vice-President - M. Jorstad, Secretary-Treasurer - B. Garaas, Class Historian - H. Melby, Student Council Representative - D. Sorensen, and Class Historian - J. Johnson.

All of the seniors practiced very hard for the play. Joe and Dianne even put in overtime!

Modern art pictures are fun to make, but really, Joe, on your shoes?

And they lived happily ever after.

Juniors . . .

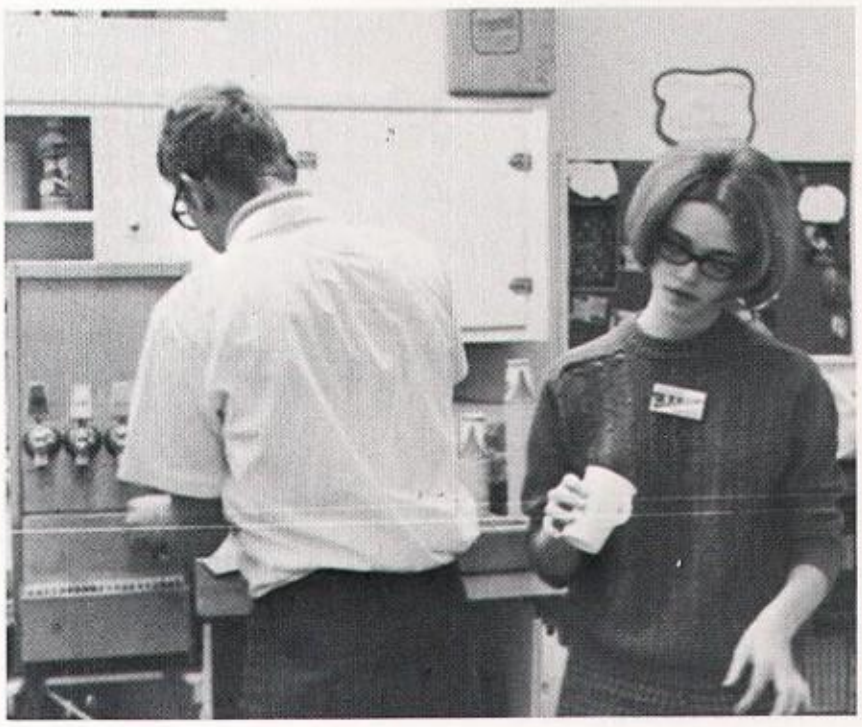
Continually Striving for Educational Betterment

The junior year of the Class of 1969 provided many opportunities for the members of the class to coordinate together in work and in fun, in laughter and in tears. It was a time when the qualities of leadership, responsibility, and cooperation were found to be characteristics needed for success.

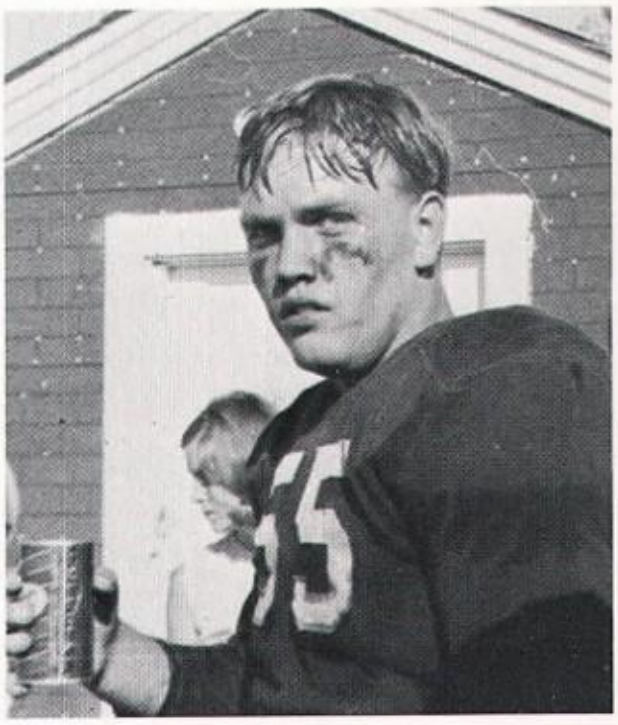
Realizing that they would need a large sum of money in order to finance the big event of the year, the Spring Prom, they immediatly began monev raising projects. Serving lunch for football and basketball games was hard work, but the fun they had while serving and the steady source of income it brought in helped them to forget all the worries they had.

The junior class plays consisted of THE MYSTERY OF MOULDY MANOR and IF GIRLS ASKED BOYS FOR DATES, and they proved to be very successful.

The memories of 1968 and the hopes for 1969 will keep the spirit of GHS alive forever.



Serving for basketball games is one of the many activities of the junior class.



After playing a hard football game, Clark relaxes with refreshments sold by his class.

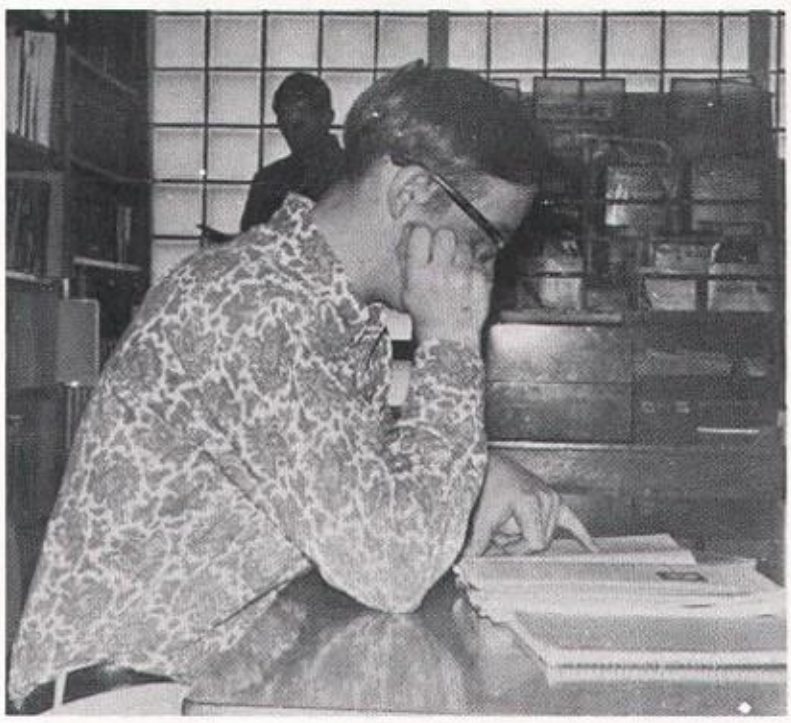
Kathy Rude helps Pam Jacobson "prepare" for the class play.

Relieved after presenting a successful play, the juniors relax.



Studying is a part of every junior's school life.

Melvin Hanson, one of the main characters in the junior play, is shown during and exciting act of the play, Cindy Fischer, his accomplice, assists him.

The future scientists of America seem to be engrossed in a very important experiment.

Not pictured with the junior class are Melvin Hanson and Sylvan Carlson.

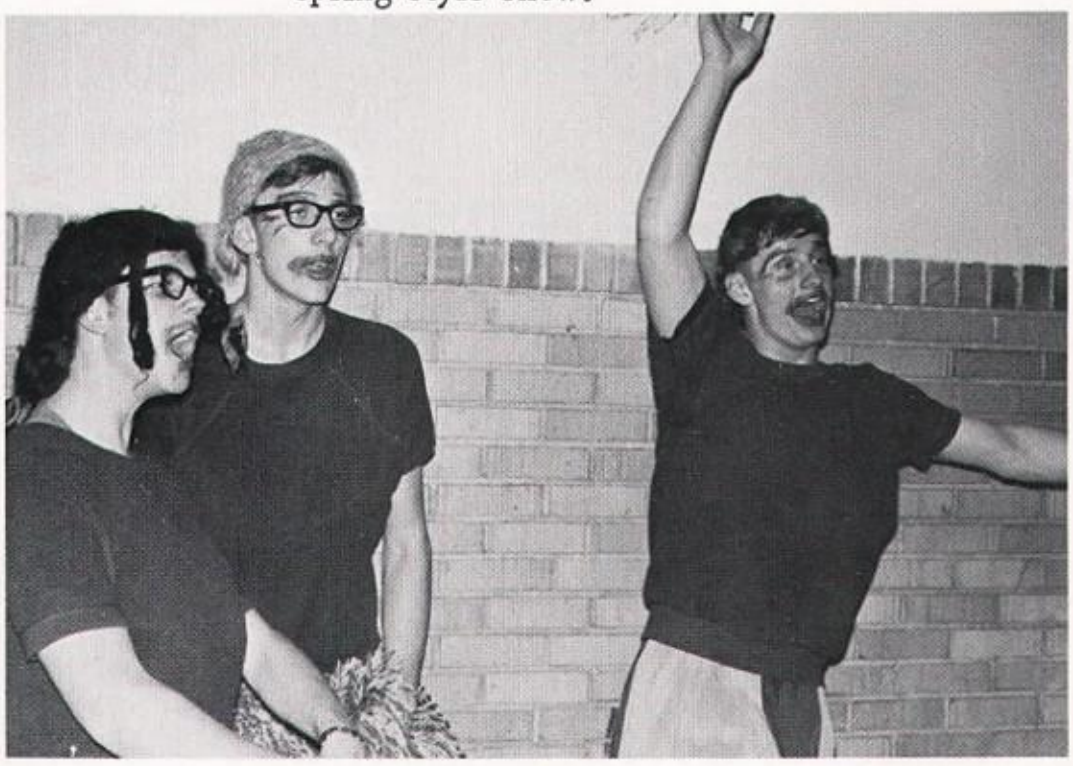
The sophomore's main event in 1968 was the sponsoring of Initiation, which proved to be a very humorous night. Another time consuming task was the research project on William Shakespeare required in English II Class. The year had many fun times and pleasant memories, and the Sophomore girls had the honor of capturing first place in the annual girls' basketball tournament held in Girls' Phy. Ed.

The girls' "security dogs" helped calm their nerves before they modeled in the Home Ec. Spring Style Show.

The Sophomores Met New Opportunities

Like many classes, biology mixed fun with hard work.



Cheering for the Faculty-Commercial Club Basketball Game was one of the sophomore boys' many activities.

Reaching for Higher Goals

On August 31, 1967, thirty-two confused but happy freshmen entered the halls of GHS. After recovering from Initiation, they successfully put on their first party--the Freshmen Return Party. Football, basketball, band, chorus, and cheerleading are just a few of the activities which made the school year a busy one.

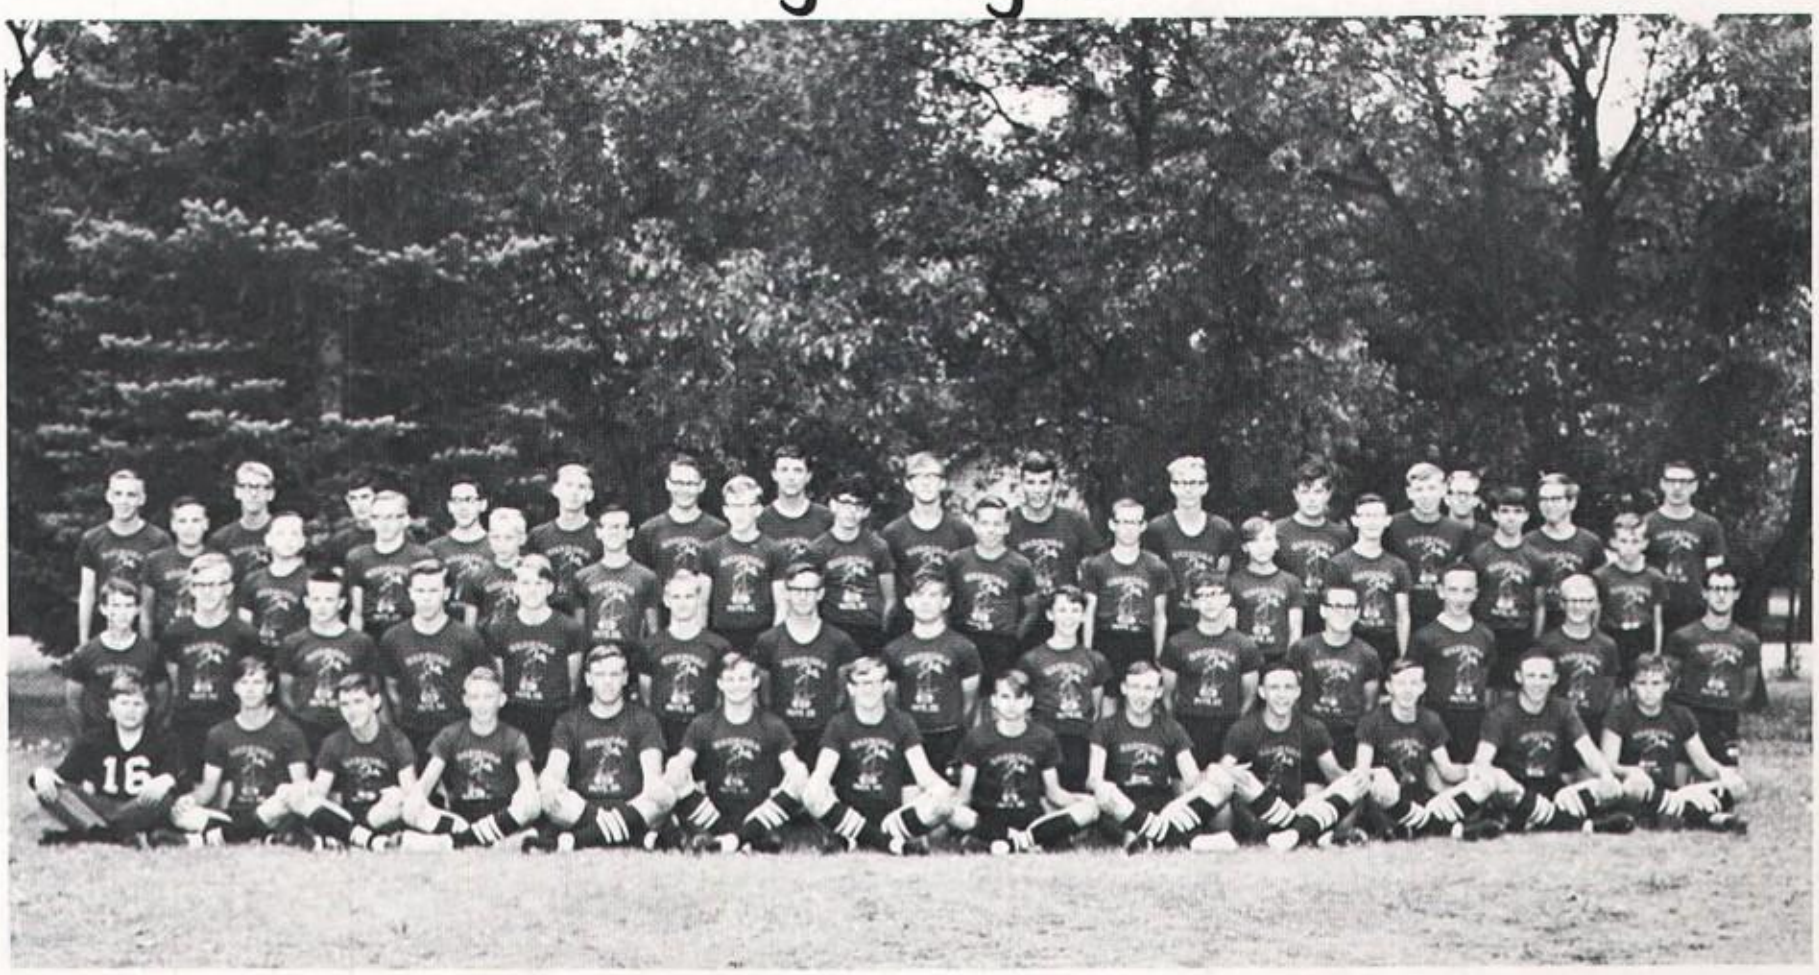
Boy's Phy Ed



The Girls' Chorus and the Boys' Chorus Show Excellent Training . . .

The members of the Girls' Chorus, and their fine director, Mr. David Gray, are pictured in concert formation.

Composed of forty-nine members, the Girls' Chorus met Monday and Wednesday afternoons for rehearsals. The eighteen member Boys' Chorus had their practices Tuesdays and Thursdays. Both choral groups participated in the Christmas and Spring Concerts, and the Girls' Chorus also sang in the Fall Concert. In April, the Boys' Chorus captivated the girls at the annual Home Economics Style Show, when they performed for it. Both groups traveled to the District Music Festival where the Girls' Chorus received a I rating and the Boys' Chorus received a 2+ rating.

The Boys' Chorus, again shown with Mr. Gray, made a fine impression at their various performances.

Mixed Chorus Reveals Much Vocal Talent . . .

Mr. David Gray, choral director, is shown with the 1967-68 Mixed Choir.

Fifteen boys and twenty-one girls composed the mixed chorus which had rehearsals every Friday afternoon, except when there were football games, lyceums, and other little things that seemed to interrupt the schedule. To help prepare for concerts, evening rehearsals were held. The choir sang in the Christmas and Spring Concerts, and they performed in the District Music Festival, receiving a I rating.

Cyndy Fischer, Beth Garaas, and Roxi Hought composed the Girls' Trio.

Grenora High School Concert Band Has Outstanding Year

The Grenora High School Concert Band began the year with fifty-three members. The first activity in which they participated was the Tri-State Music Festival held at Dickinson. The Fall Concert was held on November 15. In the afternoon on December 19, a concert was given for the student body. Everyone enjoyed the music played by the Pep Band during the home ballgames. The Upper Missouri and District Tournaments provided other performances.

Members of the French Horn Quartet are left to right: K. Larson, D. Sorensen, P. Hagge, and L. Peterson.

Brass Chamber members are standing: M. Sveet, D. Gunlikson, V. Thorstad, M. Musgjerd, K. Larson. Seated are D. Sorensen and P. Jacobson.

Small Band Groups Helped Make 1968 a Musical Success . . .

An instrumental recital January 30, and the Winter Concert held February 24, showed much talent and creativity held by the band members. The Band entered the District Music Festival and received two I ratings. This spring they went on tour and played in Ray and Trenton. Other activities for the year included the Spring Concert, Band Day, and playing for Graduation exercises and Memorial Day.

Members of the Flute Trio are left to right: V. Holm, B. Garaas, and V. Sorensen.

G. Sneva and J. Johnson, standing, and M. Jorstad and C. Johnson, seated, are all members of the Saxophone Quartet.

The Trombone Quartet for 1968 was made up of R. Gunlikson, K. Enget, F. Larson, and M. Sveet.

Clarinet Quintet members are standing, L. Muller, J. Laqua, and H. Hendrickson and seated, K. Jacobson, and C. Manger.

Junior-Senior Prom 1967, features "In the Misty Moonlight"

"In The Misty Moolight" was the theme for the 1967 Junior-Senior Prom and Banquet, which proved to be very successful.

The banquet was held April 26 and the mood was set with Clark Schilke singing the theme song. Turkey was the main course served by the sophomores.

Even though it was cold and snowing on April 28, everyone enjoyed themselves at the prom, dancing to the music of the "Messengers" from Minot. Roger Gunlikson, president of the junior class, and his date, Mary Lynn Quarne, led the Grand March to the strains of "In The Misty Moonlight".

The memories and success of the 1967 Prom will be with us forever.

Phil, Dianne, Marlys, and Roger show what great fun decorating is. It doesn't look like much now, but the results are worth the effort!

The smiling (but hungry) faces of the Class of 1968 at the banquet reflect the special mood set by the surroundings.

The silhouette seemed to be the focal point of interest at the prom.

The theme wall set the romantic mood of the evening.

The 1968 Junior-Senior Prom "Love Me Forever" Leaves Unforgettable Memories.

May 8, the junior class of Grenora honored the 1968 senior class at the annual Junior-Senior Banquet. Other guests included the faculty, school board, cooks, and janitors. After the welcome speech by Arlen Johnson, Junior Class President, the delicious meal was served. Andy Sveet provided entertainment for the evening by singing "Moonlight Bay." The climax of the night was the speech given by LeRoy Sorensen.

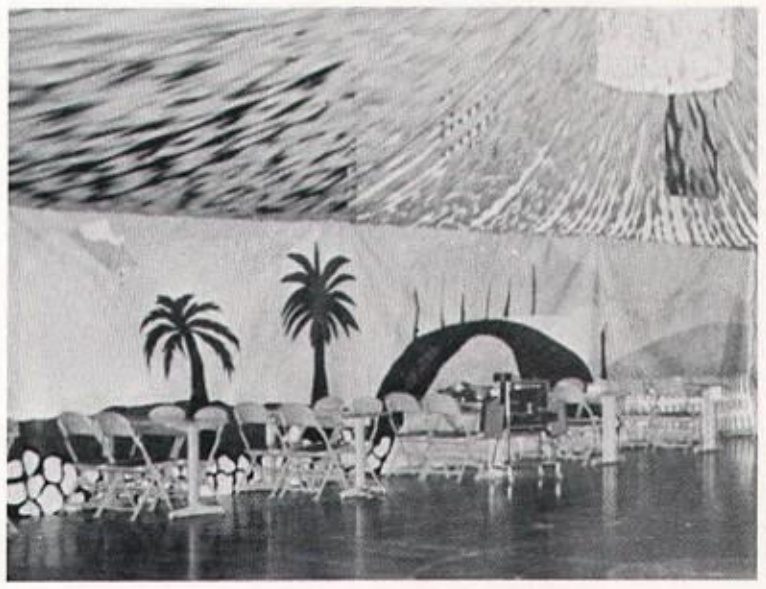
On May 10, many couples enjoyed themselves dancing to the music of "Art and Helen".

The theme for the banquet and Prom was "Love Me Forever." The colors were lavendar and purple.

Each girl and her date were announced as they entered the archway to start the Grand March. Arlen Johnson, and his date, Liz Laqua, led the couples to the theme song "Love Me Forever."

The evening left many pleasant memories with everyone.

Jim Haskins helped decorate for the prom by helping to hang the beautiful chandelier.



The prom theme centered around the garden scene.

The theme wall was highlighted by the addition of the fountain.

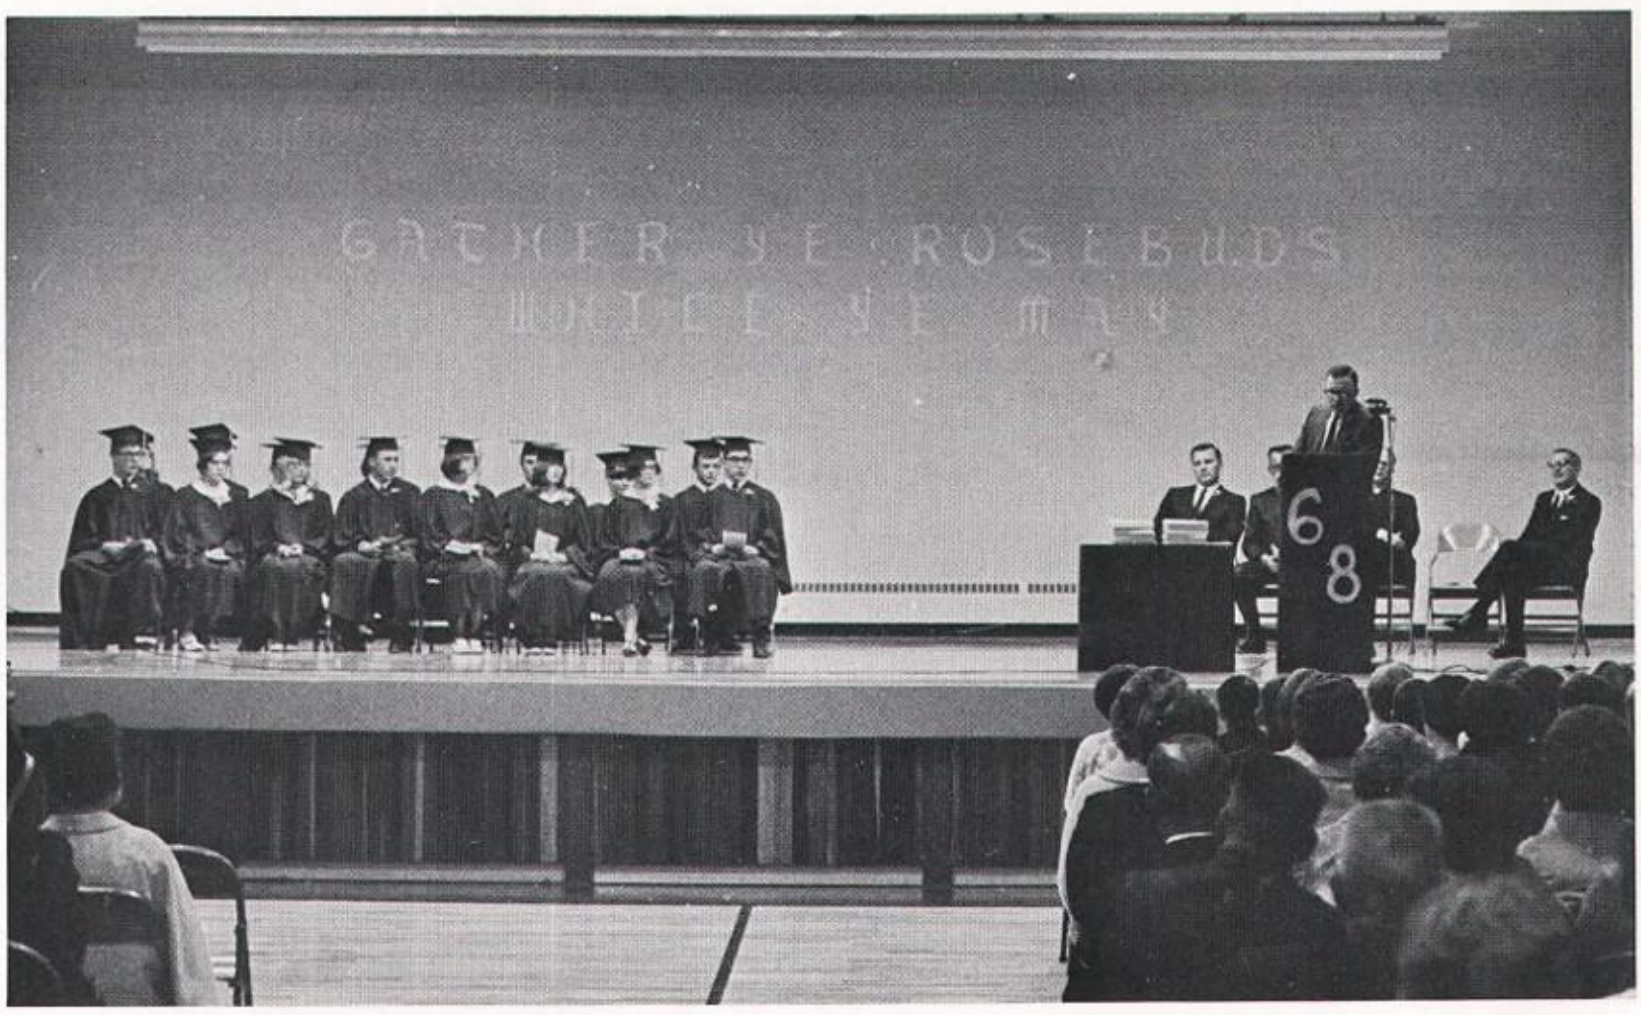
Cleaning up is always a big job, and the prom is once again over for another year.

The Class of 1968 had many last minute anxieties before graduation.

Graduation . . .

Graduation meant a new step in life for the Class of 1968, and they had the honor of being the first class to be graduated from the new school. One of the smallest classes to be graduated from GHS, the sixteen seniors made a small group as compared to the thirty-one eighth grade graduates. The class motto, "Gather Ye Rosebuds While Ye May," the class flower, the Pink Baby Rose, and the class colors, scarlet and light pink, were used to decorate the new gymnasium. The graduation ceremony proved to be very impressive to all those in attendance, and the Class of 1968 were left with another fond memory of their high school days.

A new beginning . . .



The solemnness of the graduation ceremony left the seniors with many serious thoughts.

The graduated seniors of 1968 are, standing: Dianne Sorensen, Dennis Sorensen, Alvin Schenstad, Mary Musgjerd, Joe Muller, Harvey Melby, Carol Ann Manger, and Jerome Ledahl. Phil Kueffler, Marlys Jorstad, Jeryl Deane Johnson, Roger Gunlikson, Elaine Grev, Susan Garaas, Beth Garaas, and Keith Enget are seated.

Valedictorian, Beth Garaas, delivers her graduation address.

Mr. Neil Ableidinger, Dickinson State College, gave the main address.

The Salutatorian of the class, Mary Musgjerd, also gave a speech.

Homecoming '67

The Grenora Gopher's third annual Homecoming 1967 proved to be a complete success. September 21, 1967, the senior's candidate, Carol Ann Manger, and her escort Joe Muller, were elected by the student body to reign over the Homecoming festivities. Carol Ann was crowned by Roxanne Graupe, the 1966 Homecoming queen. The first runner-up and freshmen candidate, was Kathleen Langberg, escorted by Jeff Smith. The junior candidate LaVonne Watterud, escorted by Jim Haskins, captured the position of second runner-up.

The snake dance followed the coronation with a pep rally on Main Street during the course of the dance. After sunset everyone gathered at the football field for a bonfire and a pep rally.

The next day was as successful as the night before with the Gopher's overwhelming 24-6 victory against the Ray Jays.

At half-time, the Queen, Carol Ann, and her court, were presented with gifts from the students.

That night, the students and alumni danced to the sound of the "Young Vibrations" from Williston.

The candidates and their escorts, and 1966-67 queen, Roxanne Graupe are shown before the announcement of the 1967-68 queen.

Queen Carol Ann and her escort, Joe, anxiously await the coronation.

The bonfire slowly dies down, but the spirit of the 1967 Homecoming will live forever.
